

Rachel Punke is a proud graduate of MSUCOM. She practices internal medicine as a Hospitalist at Bronson Methodist Hospital in Kalamazoo, Michigan. She is also certified in functional medicine through the Institute for Functional Medicine. She loves being able to share functional medicine tools with her patients and believes it helps her foster meaningful relationships. She is on faculty at WMED and has taught functional medicine to family medicine residents at Bronson Battle Creek. She is also a member of Osteopathic Women Leaders through the MOA.
