

Alyse Folino Ley, DO, FACN, Dr. Folino Ley serves as an associate professor, and the Associate Chairperson of Education and Research, in the Michigan State University, Department of Psychiatry. She is the Director, and principal investigator of Prevent 2 Protect: The Adolescent Targeted Violence Prevention Project, a Michigan Department of Education-funded five-year pilot project. Dr. Alyse Folino Ley graduated from Michigan State University's College of Osteopathic Medicine in 2002. Following medical school, she completed a general psychiatry residency and child and adolescent psychiatry fellowship at Michigan State University. She is board-certified in both general psychiatry and child and adolescent psychiatry by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology (ABPN) and the American Osteopathic Board of Neurology and Psychiatry (AOBNP). Dr. Folino Ley is a fellow of the American College of Neuropsychiatrists (ACN) and a Distinguished Fellow of the American Psychiatric Association (APA). Dr. Folino Ley has expertise in working with adults, children, and adolescents with trauma-related disorders, mood disorders, anxiety disorders, developmental disorders, ADHD, learning disorders, and psychotic disorders. She has provided subject matter expertise to the Averted School Violence Database project, the National Policing Institute's Center for Targeted Violence Prevention initiatives, and collaborated with John Jay College of Criminal Justice. Dr. Ley participated in after-action reviews of the Route 91 Harvest Festival shooting in Las Vegas (NV) with John Jay College, the Marjory Stoneman High School shooting in Parkland (FL), and the Paw Paw High School averted shooting in Michigan. In 2022, Dr. Folino Ley was appointed by Governor Whitmer to serve on the Michigan School Safety and Mental Health Commission. She also served on the Oakland Co. Prosecutor's Gun Safety Commission and the Michigan Board of the National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI). Dr. Folino Ley also served as the MSU Psychiatry Associate Residency Director from 2008-2011 and the Residency Director from 2011-2022 and continues to be extensively involved in medical and psychiatry residency education in the MSU College of Osteopathic Medicine and the MSU College of Human Medicine.

